CHICAGO, July 16.—Out of the ashes of dissension among Forty-eighters and shers of the many fused and confused sifted elements that have appeared in the city in the last five days a new sarty has been launched.

Utterly repudiating the action of the farm-labor party, which had nomissied Parley P. Christensen, of Salt lake City, for President, the bolters gathered to-day. They created a permanent organization called "The Libral party," selected their temporary chairman is Judge of the temporary chairman is Judge of the temporary chairman is Judge of the committee of the Commit

It was a blunder, in fact s fiasco, whose humorous side would stand out if it were not for its real tragedy. We Forty-eighters failed to found a new party because we fell down completely in our judgment of the situation. We did not realize until too late that the men who controlled the Labor party, with which we proposed to join, were not bent on we proposed to join, were not bent on a new people's party, drawing from the whole American public, but on a trades union party with two specific purposes: (1) to spread British guild socialism in the United States, and (2) to destroy Gompers' leadership in the 'American Federation of Labor by to eaxing his followers away from him into a party, the formation of which sam has bitterly denounced.

"The rank and file itself of the Labor party convention, as I got its point of view, was not made up of extremists at all. They were just average human beings. If let alone they would have been satisfied with a political platform going as far as our St. Louis platform. "But union discipline was strong at Chicago. Class consciousness was strong, too, and the excitement of the convention swept sober thought away, so that the labor crowd stood as a unit for an extreme and little-thought-out platform. Under the same circumstances they would, in my opinion, have embraced with equal unanimity sovietism or its antithesis, anarchism, or our st.
